Subject: microsoft settlement is wrong

Dear Sir or Madam:

The proposed settlement put forth by the Department of Justice is not nearly enough to remedy the damage done to the computer/software industry. Microsoft exists as it is today for no reason other than the extensive manipulation it has wreaked on the industry. In order to provide an environment where innovation can flourish and where users have a choice of software, microsoft must be severely penalized. Even as the government's case against Microsoft is proceeding, the company thumbs its nose at justice by releasing even more software that will further cement their stranglehold on the market and is clearly aimed at extending their grip to other sectors. Please do what is necessary to stop Microsoft from stealing any more of my freedom.

Sincerely,

Brian Stevens
